

READY, STEADY ... JOBS

The Spanish students have worked on role-plays about real situations they can face or they can have faced in their travellings abroad.

How can they handle this situation?

How can they handle this situation?

They can find it easy if they had previously had the experience. Let's see!!!!!!!

As politenes and good manners are important attitudes in socializing, the pupils learnt to use sentences in context to interact with other students and their families.

They have been in the customs at the airport.
They could book a room in a hotel getting to know the different services available for them.

Our pupils went to burger and order FAST-FOOD.

Burger Master wish you a pleasant meal.

If you have any comments about our food or service, please inform our manager.

They took the roles of waiters/waitresses and customers and became familiar to how to order and serve in an elegant restaurant

They worked on other specific role -plays to deal with other situations : some of them felt ill and went to the doctor and the chemist .

When they got over , they ,even,had time for shopping buying presents for family and friends and clothes for themselves.
